Dear Mary

I have time to write only a few lines. I wanted very much to remain in Porttland at the evening exercises but - it seemed best to come on up. I had no time to call at the Immigration rooms. The new Agent - has gone out but - Forbers have not - come in yet - I presume they are turning over the property, The grandest thing yesterday was the marching of the school children, over 1000 I am sure, some say 2,000. I will write more about it in my next. I judge Ma was still alive yesterday morning, as there would have been some word in the evening papers at Porttland, so it would seem. I hope God will enable you to bear up under the deep affliction. I am heart-sick to think I cannot be there. Godby Lovingly C. Wacker
