Governor Atiyeh left Oregon today on the first leg of a month-long trip to the middle east. The Governor will first pay courtesy calls on the foreign embassies in Washington, D.C. before leaving the country on Thursday.

Atiyeh's father was from Syria and his mother from Lebanon. The Governor will visit his ancestors homeland in Syria and lead a state trade delegation to Saudi Arabia and Egypt.

This one is pretty well carefully set up. In Saudi, Egypt and we have some contacts directly so (mumble) of economic development it is going to be a great one.

At the end of the trip Governor will pay a tourist visit to Israel.
