THE REELECTOR

No. 5 Campaign '72

Committee for the Re-Election of the President

Now more than ever-

NIXON!

Dems Flee McG., Join Nixon Drive P.3

Top Dems: cannot support McGovern

EVERYWHERE, U.S.A., August 16th—Full-page advertisements in major daily papers around the country, today, announced the formation of DEMOCRATS FOR NIXON and denounced the "disasterous" views of Senator McGovern.

Signed by Democrats for Nixon Chairman John B. Connally, Vice-Chairman Jeno F. Paullucci (Independents for Nixon), and 41 prominent

Co-Vice Chairmen, the powerful statement expresses the concern of many thoughtful Americans over the McGovern Candidacy and their recognition of the magnificent performance of Richard Nixon as the Nation's Chief Executive.

The RE-ELECTOR is proud to present excerpts from this remarkable evidence of support for the Re-Election of President Richard Nixon.

WE'RE NOT LEAVING THE PARTY. BUT WE CANNOT SUPPORT SENATOR MCGOVERN.

The nomination of Senator McGovern has placed many Democrats in a difficult position. Some say the choice is between our party and our country. We say the real choice is Senator McGovern or President Nixon.

We have nothing against Senator McGovern personally. But we feel strongly that many of his views could prove disastrous to the future of our country.

The Senator would hacksaw our defense budget, and that "would threaten the very security of our country." (Senator Humphrey said that.)

He would withdraw from Vietnam without securing the release of our prisoners of war.

He supports busing of school children as a national policy.

He proposes tax increases and welfare schemes that are unfair and unworkable (McGovern recently proposed to give every man, woman and child in the country $1000 a year, without regard to need or cost.)

Senator Jackson said, "McGovern has become the spokesman of some of the most dangerous and destructive currents in American politics."

Senator Muskie said, "McGovern's positions on many of the issues are unacceptable to a large portion of our people."

We support President Nixon for re-election this November. He has been a strong and effective leader.

- He has brought 500,000 men home from the war.
- He has opened the door to China.
- He signed the Nuclear Arms Limitations Agreement with Russia.
- He fights for equal education for all children without busing.
- He has waged an all out war against crime and drugs.
- His domestic policies have provided job security and gainful employment to 82,624,000 Americans at the highest wages in history.

We urge our fellow Democrats to join us in supporting President Nixon, and we need your help. We need volunteers to help convince still other Democrats. We need your contributions, large or small. If you can help, please fill out the coupon below and join the Democrats for Nixon Committee.

The sole purpose of this committee is for the re-election of President Richard Nixon. This committee is not involved in any congressional, state or local elections.

Our Man In Miami... Penn Senator Hugh Scott

Floor Leader Scott

'Scotticisms...'

In 31-plus years since he took his seat as a freshman in the 77th Congress, the recorded words of Philadelphia's erudite scholar, untiring statesman and the insouciant slayer of demagogues has given him an honored place in old Foggy's Hall of Oratorical Fame.

Hugh does not swash at his opponents with the ponderous cutlass of old-time forensics—rather, he pierces them with the rakish thrust of rapier repartee.

Although the pleasant-mannered Minority Leader is capable of deep anger over official foibles that foil the American people, it is his biting sarcasm on such occasions that betrays the true depth of Scott's scorn for the nefarious.

Here, a sampling of "SCOTTICISMS"—

Piquant Prose of the Pennsylvania Poker

Constitutional Proposals

To act at a time when there is great emotional stress does not necessarily contribute to good legislation . . . there should be a dialogue.

War Critics

I am sick and tired of seeing this war used as a political football by many of the same fellows who in previous years lauded our involvement in Vietnam. It is our intention to make sure everyone within hearing distance knows that the thrust of this Administration commitment is to down the war and up the economy.

Equal Time

The President took about 30 minutes to deliver his State of the Union address. All the networks gave 55 minutes to his opponents. I can only suggest they need it.

Absenteeism

There is no time for skiing in Switzerland when the Senate is in session, unless the constituency has given approval. And if that is the case, it should pay for the skiers.

Equal Employment

We have given the Blacks the action; the previous two Administrations gave them a lot of rhetoric.

Quorum Call

A demand for quorum call would expose the Senate in all its nakedness.

McGovern's Convention

Mayor Daley was told he didn't represent Chicago and he couldn't come to the convention. But Shirley McLaine and Gloria Steinem do represent American women.

The McGovern Ticket

The number one man promises anything to win. The number two man gives anything to run. This is the new politics? How is it indistinguishable from the old?

The McGovern people had trouble getting a Vice President and even thought about renting Spiro Agnew.

Sargent Shriver

Some of McGovern's colleagues were outlawed, so he had to take an in-law. Anyway the Shriver nomination will keep Teddy's organization going until 1976.

I am delighted to know that the gentleman is well qualified to be Vice President because he went to Yale and did well there. I did not know that was the primary qualification, but since the Senator led off with it, I assume from now on we will all have to sing "Boola Boola" together. I am sure the campaign will be full of "Bulla Bulla" all through the election.

The Presidential Contender

It's not true that George never visits the old Senate Chamber. I saw him there with my very own eyes once this year—and he was still there, even after I wiped my glasses. In fact, he was seated long enough to cast a vote and pick up his back pay. I remember it very well because three of my colleagues, the Sergeant at Arms and a passel of Presidential hopefuls were badly tromped as he sped away to the hustings.

And there was young Ted, eying him with the enigmatic look of an undertaker estimating the size of a corpse.

Withal, George left on a happy note—for the country, if not for South Dakota. He promised to be back.

As President Nixon said to Senator Scott, "You've got the words, Hugh, and you use them effectively. It certainly helps!"

It sure does!

50 Strong...
 Geared Up And Goin'!

VOLUNTEERIN'EST!

MIAMI BEACH—It's called Florida Volunteers for the President and if Ponce de Leon could make the scene he'd know he had found the Fountain of Youth. The youngest is eight and the oldest is eighty-one—each doing his own young thing for the man who will be re-nominated for and re-elected President.

Says Tim Austin (RNC Mimi's younger brother): "We put out a call for volunteers to come and help us paint signs. It just grew like Topsy—three shifts a day, in teams of 20 or 30 at-a-time. It's marvelous." Tim says anybody who want's to "sign up"—c'mon down—to 4014 Chase Avenue, Miami Beach.

VOLUNTEER ART ON PARADE. Colorful personalized posters by FVP'ers greeted arriving Re-Election staffers at Miami International Airport on August 11th.

The Campaign Deputies...

The Three M's—Malek, MacGregor and Magruder

Fred Malek, 35, is the new Deputy Director for Campaign Organization. Before moving over to the Re-Election Committee on a full-time basis, Fred had served as Committee liaison with the White House in his position as Special Assistant to the President.

A management planning and control specialist, Malek was White House appointments evaluator and recruitment head—joining the President's staff in September 1970 from HEW where he had been Deputy Under Secretary since April 1969 working on management improvement and overall operating matters.

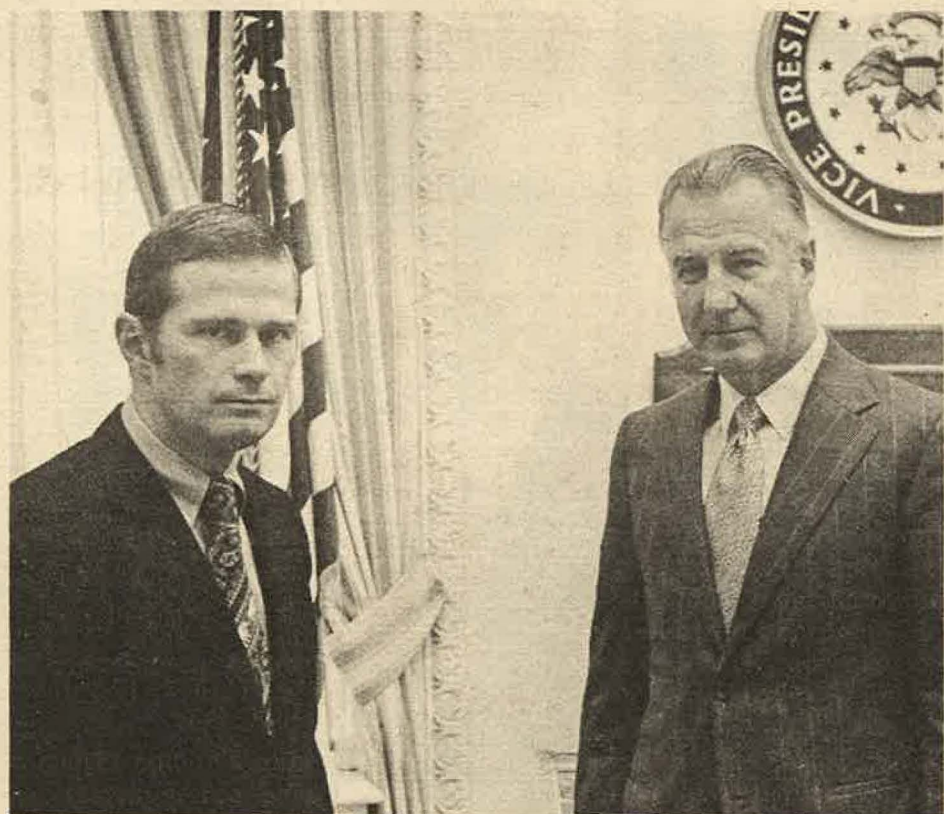

A West Pointer and Harvard Graduate School alumni, Fred was a management consultant with McKinsey & Company, Los Angeles before forming his own corporation—Triangle—in 1967, a diversified manufacturer with plants across the country.

He is married to the former Marlene McArthur. They have a son and a daughter and reside in McLean, Virginia.

Jeb Magruder, 37, is Deputy Director for Communications. Prior to joining the Re-Elect Committee in May, 1971, Jeb was Special Assistant to the President and Deputy Director of Communications for the Executive Branch. Before his White House appointment in 1969 Magruder was President of two Santa Monica firms—Consumer Developments, Inc. and Cosmetic Industries, Inc. A Williams College (Massachusetts) alumni, he received his Business Administration Masters from the University of Chicago, during which time he worked for the management consulting firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton.

In 1968 Jeb coordinated the Nixon presidential campaign in Los Angeles and 10 surrounding counties. Earlier, while working for Jewel Tea Company in Chicago, he was involved in Illinois GOP activities.

He is married to the former Gail Nicholas and they have four children. Jeb's area of campaign responsibility covers advertising activities (November Group), public affairs and relations and the press division.

Surrogate Candidates:

The President's SPEAKERS OUT

While the President attends to his tremendous responsibilities as the Nation's Chief Executive, politically attuned members of his staff, appointees and elected officials—people who know and understand the President's stand on the issues—are carrying the '72 campaign, and his message, to the people in every state and territory. We present here (continued from previous RE-ELECTORS) some more of the talented Surrogate Candidates working for the Re-Election of President Nixon.

Citizens Groups Set Convention Action...

Volunteers for the President

We are within sight of our goal of one million volunteers by Labor Day—never losing sight of the tremendous contribution the grassroots effort will mean for Victory Nov. 7. Our valiant volunteers will be honored at a campaign coffee in the Fontaine Room of the Fontainebleau Sunday, 3 to 4:30 p.m.
Pat Hutar

Farmers for the President

Among farm-related activities will be a press conference to explain the Republican's agricultural platform and to critique that of the Democrats. Members of the committee will be available to discuss the President's farm programs, especially with delegates and alternates from farming communities.
Clayton Yeutter

Blacks for the President

With a greatly increased number of black delegates and alternates attending this convention, there is a wide range of events—part of "Operation Maximum Involvement." Sunday, there is a get-acquainted reception at the Eden Roc; Monday a caucus in the Eden Roc's Palladium Room. Monday night there'll be a reception in the Napoleon Room of the Deauville. Wednesday, 2 to 3:30 p.m. there'll be a seminar in the Bonaparte Room at the Fontainebleau. Paul R. Jones

Lawyers for the President

Delegates and alternates who are lawyers have been invited to a seminar Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Lafayette and Pasteur rooms of the Fontainebleau. They will learn about the lawyers action program for the campaign.
Daniel J. Piliero, II

Spanish-Speaking Persons for the President

To welcome the Spanish-speaking and surname delegates and alternates there will be a reception Sunday from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the Palladium Room of the Eden Roc. Tuesday, from 9:30 to noon there will be a caucus for delegates and appointees. Wednesday from 2 to 3:30 p.m. there will be a seminar in the Eden Roc's Gold Room, and, in the same room from 5 to 6:30 p.m., a Marguerita Party.
Alex Armendaris

Educators for the President

The pedagogical community has been invited to a seminar Wednesday at 2 p.m. in Harry's Show Room at the Eden Roc. There educators-cum-delegates and alternates will be briefed on the President's unparalleled initiative and accomplishments in academe.
Dr. Orley R. Herron

Jewish Voters for the President

Monday afternoon, Max Fisher hosts a reception at the Fontainebleau for all Jewish delegates and alternates as well as the Greater Miami Jewish community. Wednesday at 2 p.m. there will be a seminar in the Louis Phillippe Room of the Fontainebleau.
Larry Goldberg

Physicians for the President

Members of this group will be enlisting the active support of the many doctors and their associates attending the convention as delegates and alternates. They will serve as spokesmen, telling of the great strides President Nixon has taken toward solving the nation's health care problems.
Malcolm Todd, M.D.

Older Americans for the President

The Older American delegates will get acquainted Sunday at a brunch from noon to 2 p.m. in the Imperial Room of the Eden Roc. Wednesday HEW Secretary Elliot Richardson, Arthur Flemming and Webster B. Todd, Jr. will conduct a workshop in the Imperial Room to brief the delegates on the Administration's record as it affects older Americans.
Webster B. Todd, Jr.

Dentists for the President

Like the physicians, dentists for the President will devote their energies at the convention to increasing the ranks of their colleagues. They will be available to explain and discuss the President's medical programs.
Eugene A. Savoie, D.D.S.

Young Voters for the President

A multitude of activities awaits the 3000 young voters who are paying their own way to participate in this convention. All will have jobs ranging from aids to messengers during the day. At night, business and pleasure find a happy medium—a platform presentation will be combined with a trip to Pirates' World Amusement Park; a nomination rally will coincide with the nominating session at Convention Hall.
Ken Reitz

Businessmen for the President

Members of the worlds of business and industry who have pledged active assistance in the campaign to re-elect the President will be discussing the President's policies in those areas with delegates and alternates who are business and industry minded.
Paul W. Kayser

Citizens' Grand Opener

1730 PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, WASHINGTON, D.C. sprang to life last week as Tricia Nixon Cox cut the colorful ribbon, officially opening Citizens for the Re-Election of the President headquarters. It was a great and cheerful event as the downtown luncheon crowd swarmed in to collect campaign buttons, bumper strips and literature. Shown on this page;

Clark MacGregor and Bob Dole lend a hand; the Ed Coxes man the display table, sign autographs and talk with voters; Clark laughs it up with long-time Nixon bandmaster, Lionel Hampton; and Young Voters for the President move out to cover the street. Presidential Re-Election Headquarters, and Storefronts are now burgeoning in all parts of the United States.

ACCLAIM!

The Arrival Scene—Pages 23/26/32

Platform Confirms Nixon's Leadership P.6

It is my great honor...

Mr. Chairman, members of this great Republican Convention, fellow Americans:

Four years ago, when we met here in Miami, America was torn by violence at home, America was in deep trouble abroad, inflation was eating away at the hard-earned wages and lifetime savings of those who have built America.

There were riots in our cities, there was chaos on our campuses. Grim, escalating war was claiming the lives of thousands of our young men and was tearing our nation apart. And that same grim war was straining our ties with the rest of the world.

Faith in America itself was being questioned—not only by people overseas but by Americans here at home.

Today we meet in happier circumstances. Certainly serious and complex difficulties still confront us, but there is renewed confidence in America abroad, and even more important, renewed confidence in America by Americans here at home.

This has been due importantly to one man—our President. This has been achieved by his determination and decisive leadership—his experienced handling of the staggering problems which he inherited four years ago.

Four years ago, there were 550,000 American fighting men in South Vietnam. Today there are less than 40,000.

Four years ago, inflation raged uncontrolled in an over-heated war economy. Today—with wage-price controls and rapid progress toward a peacetime economy—the rate of inflation has already been cut in half.

Four years ago, the Soviet Union and the United States appeared to be on a collision course. Today, we are working together in science, in technology, in health, in environment, in outer space exploration, and in trade.

Four years ago, there was a great wall between mainland China and America. Today, we are in productive and increasingly active communication.

Four years ago, daily shelling and raiding in the Middle East threatened another World War. Today, the U.S.-sponsored cease-fire has been in effect two years and there is hope for peace.

Four years ago, we were headed toward environmental disaster. Today, the whole nation is mobilizing to protect and restore our environment.

In each instance, the President has met these crises through decisive action. At the same time, he has also acted to meet the challenge of change. The President recognized that the patterns of the past, the concepts of the past, the establishments of the past were no longer adequate to meet the needs of today and the challenges of tomorrow. And so, four years ago, he set out to achieve fundamental changes in our concepts and relations, both internationally and here at home.

He brought new initiatives and new programs: Federal revenue sharing to strengthen state and local government services for the people; welfare reform to help those in need and protect the taxpayer; reorganization of the bureaucratic Federal grant-in-aid system to cut waste and red tape; restructuring of the Federal government to make it manageable and more responsive to human needs. Most significantly, with his deep concern for people and their changing problems, the President has completely revised our nation's priorities.

In 1968, he inherited a Federal budget which allocated 45 per cent for national defense and only 32 per cent for "human resources." Today, four years later, he has completely reversed the emphasis, with 45 per cent of the Federal budget for "human resources" and 32 per cent for national defense. And he has done this without sacrificing our national security and world leadership.

The Human Resources Budget has been doubled, providing greater support than in any previous administration to the basic areas of human concern: civil rights, equal opportunity, education, health, and the fight against drugs. In addition, there have been great increases in housing, community development, and crime control. No President or administration has done more to help meet these needs—the needs of our great cities, the needs of our suburban communities, needs which are the concern of all our people.

The President has taken bold action to achieve agreements to open up new areas of trade and to protect American workers in the face of growing foreign competition.

Together, all these far-reaching steps are bringing about a new era of peacetime prosperity:

—Witness the 2-1/2 million increase in jobs for American workers in the past 12 months alone;

—Witness the 4 per cent gain this year in real wages—increased purchasing power for American workers—the most significant gains since the runaway inflation was started seven years ago.

These accomplishments at home and the accomplishments abroad have not happened by themselves. While others talked, the President acted. While others merely wrung their hands, he had the courage and the ability to face the hard realities, to initiate new approaches, and to bring about solutions.

While others despaired:

—He has worked to end the war in Vietnam;

—He stood firm in the Middle East;

—He travelled to Peking;

—He journeyed to Moscow.

And, while others dealt in vague generalities about disarmament, he made the Strategic Arms Limitations Treaty a reality.

In short, President Nixon has brought us to the threshold of a generation of peace—even as he works and plans for a century of peace ahead.

This is skilled management and leadership of a high order. It is this leadership and these accomplishments that bring me before you at this Convention to make a nomination.

This country and the world need the continued leadership of our President.

I say to you delegates, to you my fellow citizens of America, we need this man.

We need this man of action, this man of accomplishment, this man of experience, this man of courage. We need this man of faith in America.

It is my great honor to nominate Richard Nixon for re-election as President of the United States.

A Better Future For All

This year our Republican Party has greater reason than ever before for pride in its stewardship.

When our accomplishments are weighed—when our opponents' philosophy, programs and candidates are assessed—we believe the American people will rally eagerly to the leadership which since January 1969 has brought them a better life in a better land in a safer world.

This political contest of 1972 is a singular one. No Americans before have had a clearer option. The choice is between going forward from dramatic achievements to predictable new achievements, or turning back toward a nightmarish time in which the torch of free America was virtually snuffed out in a storm of violence and protest.

It is so easy to forget how frightful it was.

There was Vietnam—so bloody, so costly, so bitterly divisive—a war in which more than a half-million of America's sons had been committed to battle—a war, it seemed, neither to be won nor lost, but only to be endlessly fought—a war emotionally so tormenting as almost to obliterate America's other worldly concerns.

And yet, as our eyes were fixed on the carnage in Asia, in Europe our alliance had weakened. The Western will was dividing and ebbing. The isolation of the People's Republic of China, with one-fourth of the world's population, went endlessly on.

At home our horrified people watched our cities burn, crime burgeon, campuses dissolve into chaos. A mishmash of social experimentalism, producing such fiscal extravaganzas as the abortive war on poverty, combined with war pressures to drive up taxes and balloon the cost of living. Working men and women found their living standards fixed or falling, the victim of inflation. Nationwide, welfare skyrocketed out of control.

The history of our country may record other crises more costly in material goods, but none so demoralizing to the American people. To millions of Americans it seemed we had lost our way.

So it was when our Republican Party came to power.

Now, four years later, a new leadership with new policies and new programs has restored reason and order and hope. No longer buffeted by internal violence and division, we are on course in calmer seas with a sure, steady hand at the helm. A new spirit, buoyant and confident, is on the rise in our land, nourished by the changes we have made. In the past four years:

- we have turned toward concord among all Americans;
- we have turned toward reason and order;
- we have turned toward government responding sensitively and sensibly to the people's hopes and needs;
- we have turned toward innovative solutions to the nation's most pressing problems;
- we have turned toward new paths for social progress—from welfare rolls to payrolls, from wanton pollution to vigorous environmental protection;
- we have moved far toward peace: withdrawal of our fighting men from Vietnam, constructive new relationships with the Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China, the nuclear arms race checked, the Mid-East crisis dampened, our alliances revitalized.

So once again the foreign policy of the United States is on a realistic footing, promising us a nation secure in a full generation of peace, promising the end of conscription, promising a further allocation of resources to domestic needs.

It is a saga of exhilarating progress.

We have come far in so short a time. Yet, much remains to be done.

Discontents, frustrations and concerns still stir in the minds and hearts of many of our people, especially the young. As long as America falls short of being truly peaceful, truly prosperous, truly secure, truly just for all, her task is not done.

Our encouragement is in the fact that things as they are, are far better than things that recently were. Our resolve is that things to come can be, and will be, better still.

Looking to tomorrow, to President Nixon's second term and on into the third century of this Republic, we of the Republican Party see a quarter-billion Americans peaceful and prospering as never before, humane as never before.

It is toward this bright tomorrow that we are determined to move, in concert with millions of discerning Democrats and concerned Independents who will not, and cannot, take part in the convulsive leftward lurch of the national Democratic Party.

The election of 1972 requires of the voters a momentous decision—one that will determine the kind of nation this is to be on its 200th birthday four years hence. In this year we must choose between strength and weakness for our country in the years to come. This year we must choose between negotiating and begging with adversary nations. This year we must choose between an expanding economy in which workers will prosper and a hand-out economy in which the idle live at ease. This year we must choose between running our own lives and letting others in a distant bureaucracy run them. This year we must choose between responsible fiscal policy and fiscal folly.

This year the choice is between moderate goals historically sought by both major parties and far-out goals of the far left. The contest is not between the two great parties Americans have known in previous years. For in this year 1972 the national Democratic Party has been seized by a radical clique which scorns our nation's past and would blight her future.

We invite our troubled friends of other political affiliations to join with us in a new coalition for progress. Together let us reject the New Left prescription for folly and build surely on the solid achievements of President Nixon's first term.

Four years ago we said, in Abraham Lincoln's words, that Americans must think anew and act anew. This we have done, under gifted leadership. The many advances already made, the shining prospects so clearly ahead, are presented in this Platform for 1972 and beyond.

May every American measure our deeds and words thoughtfully and objectively, and may our opponents' claims be equally appraised. Once this is done and judgment rendered on election day, we will confidently carry forward the task of doing for America what her people need and want and deserve.

(Preamble to the '72 Republican Platform)
