

Christmas Gifts

An Acrostic by C. B. Walker

Christmas eve, we are told, good Santa Claus brings
Lots of presents for children, and many good things;
I think he must love good girls, and good boys;
For the gifts that he brings often double their joys.
Far richer than these, is the gift God has given,
Of a Savior for all, and a promise of heaven;
Ring out the glad song over valley and hill
Dear song sung by angels, of peace ^{and} good will
