INTRODUCTORY NOTE

This list of the members and chief clerks of the Oregon Legislative Assembly, beginning with the Provisional Government Legislative Committee of 1843 is designed to serve as a general name index to the published Journals of the Assembly, the unpublished records in the State Archives, and contemporary newspaper accounts of sessions. Men who were sworn in, and who later lost their seats to successful contestants have been included, although the fact they lost their seats has not been indicated. No attempt has been made to list individuals who were elected or appointed to the Legislature but did not serve in a session. Apparent discrepancies in the form of any name as given in the published Journals has been checked against other sources on file in the Archives, and in some cases against biographical information in the Oregon Collection of the State Library. There is always the possibility that the service of two men of the same name has been listed as if there was only one man involved, or that service of one man appears under different forms of his name.

The picture on the cover is of the 1895 House of Representatives in session in the State House that burned in 1935. It is from the original glass negative in the Trover Collection in the Oregon State Library. The compilation of the first edition of this Bulletin was the work of George B. Sanders, then Secretary of the State Archives, and the enlarged edition in its present form is the responsibility of Wilma K. Sanders, Secretary to the State Archivist with help and assistance of many other members of the staff.

This Bulletin is free to citizens of Oregon and single copies are free to libraries and Historical societies. Otherwise for sale outside of Oregon for $1.25.

PUBLIC MEETINGS OF THE INHABITANTS OF THE WILLAMETTE SETTLEMENTS

This check list identifies the records of recorded meetings of the inhabitants of the Willamette Settlements which resulted in the organization of the Provisional Government of Oregon. It is designed to permit reference to original documents, to resolve questions raised by frequent typographical errors in published journals and erroneous dates included in many published histories. Similar documents through 1860 have been cited in the Chronology of Sessions (Appendix I).

The documents listed includes notes (or rough drafts), final original versions, certified copies, and copies made by C. P. Crandall, clerk for Lafayette Grover who published the Oregon Archives in 1853. Each document has been identified by comparison of handwriting and other characteristics with signed samples carefully selected from official record groups. Documents are cited by filing numbers which were stamped on them prior to their transfer from the Secretary of State's office. These numbers are not related to the content or chronology of the records.

In addition, two documents (cited parenthetically) are from the National Archives, "Letters received by the Office of Indian Affairs, 1824-1881. Oregon Superintendency, 1842-1880" (Microfilm 234, Roll 607). These are true copies which were enclosed with the annual reports submitted by E. H. White, U. S. Sub-Agent of Indian Affairs for the Territory West of the Rocky Mountains. The meetings reported in these minutes were not legislative in nature, but the format, dates, and the fact that White contacted the public rather than their elected representatives warrants their inclusion.

In some cases only the Grover manuscript exists, and this is the sole citation. No effort has been made to distinguish between notes and final fair copies of the minutes of the meetings.

The Territorial Documents Records Series is available on 28 rolls of 35mm microfilm made by the Oregon Historical Society, and the original manuscripts can be studied in the Archives Division, Oregon State Library. The holdings also include published minutes and journals and a microfilm edition prepared by the Library of Congress, complete except for the Special Session of 1850 which was never published.

The original text of the documents through 1843, other than White's meeting of Sept. 22, 1842, are among those published in the Oregon Historical Quarterly, vol. 60, no. 2 (June, 1959), p. 211-280, as "The Oregon Archives, 1841-1843", by David C. Duniway and Neil R. Riggs, Editors.

The original documents were checked and identified by James D. Porter, Records Examiner, Archives Division.
